

Poem painting - 40x60 - Mixed Media on Canvas - Framed in Maple

Item No.: SK-01

Product Category: Oil Paintings

DESCRIPTION

40" x 60" poem painting inspired by Twombly's scribble painting, this work uses Rilke's words from the poem Entering as expressive marks layered, erased, concealed and revealed.

Materials:

- Graphite,
- Acrylic and oil paints,
- Litho crayon on stretched canvas
- Framed in a maple with black interior floater frame.

Poem Inspiration:

*Whoever you may be: step into the evening.
Step out of the room where everything is known.
Whoever you are,
your house is the last before the far-off.
With your eyes, which are almost too tired to free themselves from the familiar,
you slowly take one black tree
and set it against the sky: slender, alone.
And you have made a world.
It is big
and like a word, still ripening in silence.
And though your mind would fabricate its meaning,
your eyes tenderly let go of what they see.*